

PHYS1010L : Introduction to Physical Science Laboratory

An interdisciplinary physical science lab that provides hands-on experimentations in the main educational topics of chemistry, physics, and earth science. This lab is designed for elementary education majors but may be taken by any student for a general education requirement. No prior knowledge of science is assumed.

Credits 1

Corequisite Courses

PHYS1010: Introduction to Physical Science