

COUN6512 : Ethical and Legal Issues

The focus of the course is on current ethical and legal concerns in professional counseling. Counselors face ethical issues on an ongoing basis. The course includes ethical decision-making processes; a variety of ethical and legal critical skills necessary for the professional counselor for protection of clients, success in the workplace, and professional accountability of all counselors.

Credits 3