

PPSY6100 : Integration I: Psychology and the Wesleyan Perspective

This course builds a thesis of how to approach psychological principles of treatment and advocacy from a Wesleyan perspective and through the lens of diversity. Special emphasis is placed on introspection and the idea of calling as we delve into the Psychologist's role as servant healers who walk through pain and suffering with our clients.

Credits 2