

PSYC2100 : Lifespan Development

A study of growth and development of human beings from conception to death, with emphasis on the areas of cognitive processes, language development and social interactions.

Credits 3

Prerequisite Courses

PSYC1550: Introduction to Psychology